Century Club Certificate Presented to Principal

First $100 donor to the 1958 YMCA fund campaign was Lester Foster, principal of Columbia School, who was presented last week with the first "century club" certificate of the year by Mayor Albert Isen, campaign chairman for the current financial drive. In lauding the Foster family for their "timely and sacrificial" gift, Isen stated that the Torrance YMCA must raise $30,000 this year in order to keep up with the demands for youth services in our community. He reminded all citizens that the YMCA is not a recipient of the Community Chest, and that all funds must come from Torrance families and firms.

Norman Bostick, YMCA youth drive chairman, also expressed appreciation from the 5,500 boys and girls who enjoy YMCA programs. He pointed out that $100 will enable four underprivileged boys to attend summer camp; or would finance the Y's Junior Basketball League during its forthcoming season. Bostick said that teenage members of the "Y" have set their own campaign goal of $1500. "They are taking part this year," he stated, "because they see the many shortages that hamper YMCA service."

PANEL ON PUBLICITY SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Program for this meeting will be a panel discussion of club publicity. Representatives of area newspapers will be on the panel.

The Coordinating Council has arranged this program at the request of clubs and groups in Torrance. ...Harvey

(Continued from Page 1) in the defense industry. The organizing drive has been under way at the plant for about three months, Flannery reported. He said the campaign has been centered on the pledge of the union to extend the "come labor agreement and wage schedules and benefits to Harvey employees as the union contracts calls for at the Reynolds Metals operation in Phoenix, which is engaged in the same kind of operation."
